Vermont's Green Up Seeks Corporate Partner Sponsors for 2009 Green Up Day

Success in continuing Vermont Green Up Day, when thousands of volunteers clean up in their communities statewide, depends on generous support of annual partner sponsors. These sponsors enjoy potential benefits relative to level selected, including company presentation in advertising, promotional materials and web content surrounding the Green Up Day event. Commitment deadline for high profile Stafford and Aiken Partners is February 24; for Davis Friend is March 3; for 100 to 500 Club is April 7.

Green Up Day, a uniquely Vermont event launched in 1970 by Governor Deane Davis, garners wide media coverage with front-page and feature stories in both daily and weekly newspapers, on-the-scene reporting by Vermont TV stations and a multitude of radio promotions. When you invest in Green Up you reinvest in Vermont, says Melinda Vieux, President of Green Up Vermont, the non-profit organization responsible for continuing the success of this special tradition.
